Meet The Board
September 2023

Have you stopped by the Library Lately?

Overheard one morning:

- Him:  you ready yet?
- Her: Just finishing this Chapter (45 minutes later)
- Him: (grabs a book)
- Her: Come on let’s go!
- Him: Just a minute. I gotta finish this chapter.
- Her:  you glad you stopped by?

Books are not only enjoyable, but they can lead to lively conversations. We have a well-organized library on the first floor just before the B and C wing split. On the second floor in the computer room, you will find books on art, health, religion, travel, gardening, needlework, birds, history, and civilization through the ages. We are getting new book donations every day. The best part about our library is there are no late fees, it’s FREE!

I have worked as an elementary teacher teaching third, fourth, and fifth grades. Then moved into Junior and Senior high School counseling and filing. I am happy to read, organize and file books in The Fountains Libraries.

Merry Christadoro
Library Chair

Jayne Burns 101

Decades after most people retire, Jayne chooses to keep working and has been employed at her current job, cutting fabric at a Joann store in Mason, Ohio, for 25 years. The 101-year-old still drives a car and joins other commuters on the road in the morning to get to work. Burns works part-time and says it’s one of the secrets of her longevity. The job requires good eyesight and some physical strength to handle bales of fabric but Burns says she doesn’t have any trouble with it at all, except the heavy vinyl fabric. Her biggest health issue at 101 is arthritis in her hands and knees.

“I just like working and I like working with people I really don’t notice that I’m any older,” she says.
